The "German Steamship Company" (Deutsche Dampfschiff-Rhederei) has augmented its fleet by a new vessel, the Hesperia, built at Kiel, the dimensions which are—260 feet length by 32 feet beam and 24 feet depth. The steamer is provided with all the newest improvements, and has compound engines of 160-horse power (nominal). Her passenger accommodation is very good. She will leave here next month for China. Her trial trip yielded very satisfactory results.

INQUEST.
An inquest was held this afternoon (28th) on the body of a Chinese female, named Yip Ahum aged about 19, who was supposed to have died of opium poisoning, by Mr. James Russell, Coroner, with Messrs A. Hancock, F. O. Diffenders and John Olson, as jury. The deceased had been dead for several days and the body was so decomposed that no medical examination could be made of it. The inquest was adjourned after the body was viewed.

The adjourned inquest on the body of a female child which was found on the Sowerman Road was resumed this afternoon (28th). The deceased, an infant scarcely a week old, was picked up by a Sikh Constable, and was given by Inspector Youngson to a female nurse. This woman testified that the infant was suffering from lock-jaw and refused food and died on the 26th. The mother who was in custody was examined and stated that the child was suffering from lock-jaw on the 7th day after birth. She instructed the boy (also in custody) to take the infant to the asylum at Wanchai. She gave him a few cent-pieces and 20 cash to repay him for his trouble. Next morning the boy informed her that the infant had died on the way. She then asked him to bring back the child if it was dead. He came back afterwards saying he could not find the child at the place he had left it, meaning the child had been removed by a Sikh constable. The boy, Ng Fien Shing, stated that the child began to cry all day on the 21st. He was afraid that the policeman on patrol would arrest him on suspicion of stealing. He therefore turned back putting the child in the cradle of a lock, quite protected from sun and rain. He was a beef-carrier between Wanchai and Sowerman, and he did not bring the child back to the mother because he was afraid that he would be too late for the beef market. The jury returned a verdict of manslaughter against the mother and the servant Ng Tin Shing.

THE "TANAI" CASE.
The adjourned inquest on the body of Chung Tung, a punkah coolie on board the M. S. steamer Tanais, was resumed this afternoon (28th). The deceased was suspected of stealing a watch, and from the evidence of witnesses previously examined, it appeared that the deceased had been tied up and thrown overboard by the boatswain.

The Chancellor of the French Consulate appeared to watch the case. The Coroner observed that the French spoken by the Chinese witnesses was so defective that the Chancellor had come to watch it. The Court, as he said, had no jurisdiction over a steamer which bore the status of a man-of-war, though it had jurisdiction over the body found. The Chancellor came with some witnesses, and this was through the courtesy of the Consul.

P. C. No. 4, Charles Bond, acted as interpreter. Mariane Danien, boatswain of the Tanais, was examined.—I know the witness Chong Aow, now in Court. I knew a punkah boy, he was known by the nick-name of "Canary." On the morning of the 21st about 5.30 o'clock a passenger came on deck and said "Some one stole my watch; I suppose it is stowed in the water-closet at the present time." He was accompanied by the gunner, who reported the loss to the Chief Officer. The Chief Officer ordered a search to be made. I know nothing about the matter afterwards. The gunner found the watch, and the China boy inspected was not to be found. About 10 o'clock that night he was found near the gang-way by the boatswain's mate. He was going down the gang-way when stopped by the boatswain's mate, who was on duty. His arrest was reported to me. I ordered him to be fastened to the fore-castle by the cable bit. He was fastened with both hands behind his back by a small marine, a house line. His feet were tied by a rope the size of a little finger. His queue was fastened loose enough to allow him to sit on the bit. No string was used to fasten his tail to the stay.

The Coroner here pointed out that the rope in Court was found attached to his tail. Witness said he knew nothing of the rope. No cord like that was used. Continued.—I laid down on deck by the side of the deceased about 10 p.m. I went to sleep about 10.30 p.m. The next I knew of the matter was about 1 a.m. when I was told that the deceased was overboard. I did not see it. The doctor's boy told me this. I saw a man with his arms on the chains of the moorings. I called to the man on the watch to bring a lamp. Every one was making a noise "Bring a lamp, bring a lamp," so the man let go the chain and swam towards Kowloon side. The man made a distance of about 80 or 100 metres. The Chief Officer got up and asked what was the matter. I replied that the "Chinese" had gone. The Chief Officer said "If he is gone, let the devil take him; the Police will catch him." I did not report the matter of trying the man up to the officers because I did not like to disturb the officers.

The Coroner said the Police Chop was close by. The Chancellor replied that no Police could be called on board without the order of the officers. Witness: Some one called out "Lower the dingy," and then the Chief Officer woke up. I told him of the matter, when he made use of the expression above mentioned. No boat was lowered. I have no authority to lower a boat without orders. I did not see any Chinese near the place where the man was tied up. I did not prevent any body from going near to see him. Nearly all the crew were lying about the fore-castle. The deceased was the only Chinese man near the place. I am sure the man was swimming well; I wish I could swim as well as he could.

The Coroner pointed out that the boy was found near the mooring, as if he had gone down and come up again. Witness: I am sure he had swam about 100 metres away. I saw his hands striking out. The two Chinese witnesses previously examined positively asserted that the man could not swim. They know that he could not.

The Coroner said the boy witness had seen might not have been the same boy. Witness:—It was impossible for the boy to release himself. He must have been set free by some one. I cannot account for the cord attached to his queue. George Robere was examined.—I am the doctor's boy on board the Tanais. I knew the punkah boy but not his name. I saw the man tied up on the 21st about 9.30 p.m. I was woke up by the noise about 3.30 a.m. that the boy had gone off. The witness here made a ludicrous statement that he never slept at all that night and yet he woke up at 2 o'clock. Witness:—I spoke to the China boy at 12 o'clock and gave him some water. I asked him if he felt hungry and he said no. I fell asleep after this and did not know how he escaped. I did not see any China boy come up to talk to him. I cannot say whether the boy had any clothes on when he was hanging to the chains, but he left a jacket on deck. I saw him swim towards Kowloon. He swam away for 80 or 90 metres. I could see this because of the phosphorescent light caused by his motion on the water. A good many persons called out "lower the dingy," but it could not be lowered without the order of some officer.

The Chinese fireman who had said that the doctor's boy had told him that the boatswain had thrown the deceased overboard, was here called to confront with witness. A dialogue in French followed, but witness stoutly denied that he ever made such a statement. Witness: I had no conversation whatever with the man on the subject. Another witness was examined. He was on watch at 2 a.m. that night. He saw the China boy tied by the queue. His hands were behind his back. The ship was swinging and witness went to brace the windsail. When he had done so, he turned round to look for the China boy, but he was not there then. The bracing of the windsail only occupied two minutes. He did not notice any one moving during this time. He could not say how the China boy could loosen himself. It must have been done very smartly. He warned the boatswain after the boy was missed. They all looked over the side, and the boatswain said he saw the man on the chain and called for a lamp. The Chief Officer, when he came up, said, "Let him depart, it is his own fault." There was no ill-feeling against the Chinese on board. The jury, composed of Messrs J. Grant, H. Crawford, and F. Gomes, found a verdict that the deceased attempted to swim ashore but failed and was accidentally drowned.

Amoy.

June 25, 1876.

The fall in exchange at Hongkong has been followed by a reciprocal action on the money market here, which has enabled an eminent financial establishment to operate very advantageously. Mr. Midshipman Easy of H. M. S. Whistle negotiated a draft on his tailor for $10, and so great is the increased confidence in the Bank that the profit on deposit accounts alone are expected to pay the Doctor's Bill in the Agent's family, whose health has been considerably impaired by a residence in Saigon.

The latest joint Stock Company started is the Amalgamated Club and Theatrical Jobbing concern. It is said that some reports are rife about a difference of opinion between the late Secretary and the Contractor, involving some 500 cash, but this requires confirmation.

Commercial affairs are in a depressed condition. A deep laid conspiracy to entrap the unwary Teaman into lower prices has been happily frustrated by the development of a new form of action of the "envy" character and the Tea market may be typographically described as in a state of "pie."

Chefoo.

June 22, 1876.

There are only six sailing vessels in port. The Rubicon (British) and Wagrien (German) are bound for Newchwang; and the Velos (German) and Albert Victor (British) are bound for Swatow or Amoy. Edmond Gressier (French) and Balgownie (British) are seeking; they were offered 12 cents for Swatow or Amoy, but did not accept it and are holding on for higher rates. The drought still continues; the Chinese are earnestly praying for rain, and if it does not arrive very soon, the second crop will be spoiled as well as the first.

Newchwang.

June 17, 1876.

There are no freights on offer for Amoy and Hongkong. For Swatow 16 to 17 cents may be obtained by a couple of vessels; and if rain falls, an immediate advance may be looked for. The vessels in port are—Louise Marie (French); Anton Gunther, Oceanus, Johann Schmidt, Johann Christian, Norma, Pallas (German); Lunan, Janet, Flodden, Scottie (British); Regulus (Norwegian); Ching Tai.

Police Intelligence.

(Before the Hon. C. May.)

June 27, 1876.

Suspicious Character.

Li Apoi, a hawker, was charged by Sergeant Lindsey, under the following circumstances. The complainant stated that a burglary was committed on the servants' quarters in Dr. Rogers' house in Arbuthnot Road, and the cook had his box forced open, which contained 24 articles of clothing and $120. The cook was absent from the house at the time, but on his return from the Theatre he discovered the burglary, and made a report at the station. Early this morning the stolen clothes were found in derneath the seat of a sedan chair, and the circumstance was reported. Sergeant Lindsey thereupon concealed himself in a sedan chair. He saw the prisoner pass the gate of the house several times and stand at the gate. The Sergeant followed him and apprehended him. He gave a very unsatisfactory account of himself. Remanded till the 3rd for enquiries to be made.

Alleged Larceny.

Wong Ahes, a carpenter, was charged by the Indian watchman at the Kowloon Dock with stealing some sheets of new copper and attempting to cut him with a chopper. The watchman, Nemut Khan, stated that on the 27th, about 8.30 p.m., he heard a noise of the rattling of copper sheathing from the direction of the steamer Kunshan. He watched and saw the prisoner come out of the dock with some sheets of copper. The watchman ran after him, and the defendant fell down cutting his hands. On the watchman taking hold of him, he lifted a chopper with intent to cut the watchman. Nemut Khan thereupon raised his stick and struck him. A struggle ensued, when another watchman came on the scene and had the defendant arrested.—The defendant said he was employed in the dock on the 26th inst. He wanted to carry away some sheets. Nemut Khan would not allow him, and they had a quarrel. About 6 p.m. on 27th, defendant was walking with a carpenter named Kong Ato, when first witness asked what they were doing there, and then struck him on the head with a stick, cutting it, and also the palm of his hand. The defendant made a noise, when the 2nd witness brought the chopper and copper from the dock and accused him of both offences. The case was remanded till the 3rd proximo, to allow the defendant to find his witness.

Disorderly Conduct.

John Anderson, seaman U. S. S. Kearyoga, was charged with refusing to pay chair-hire, but was discharged, owing to the non-attendance of the complainant.

James Martin Still, who was described as a machinist belonging to the Charlie Palmer, was found drunk in the house of a foreigner at Queen's Road. He was without his shoes. Cheung Ahin, chair-coolie to Mr. Petersen, stated that at about midnight, he was in charge of his master's house, while his master was out. He left the door open until his master's return. The defendant came in drunk and would not leave. The defendant, who said he had no recollection of anything, was fined $1.

CORRESPONDENCE.

POLICE VERBOSITY.

To the Editor of the "CHINA MAIL."

Hongkong, June 28th, 1876.

SIR.—There is doubtless some defence for the peculiar practice of dog fancying which so extensively prevails amongst the native and foreign communities here. The Chinese use them almost entirely as watch dogs, and the foreigners keep them as pets. No Chinese family feels itself at all secure in the outlying districts without half-a-dozen of these guardians, which will not permit the approach of any stranger without giving most unmistakable notice. The universality of this custom may be explained by the deeply rooted suspicion of even their nearest neighbours, in which the Chinese live. The expense of this protective arrangement is trifling, as rice is generally cheap, and when it is dear the dogs are left pretty much to feed themselves. They are for the greater part mongrel curs of a treacherous and cowardly disposition. No attempts are even made to wash or tend them, and as the Chinese have an aversion to destroying these dogs when aged or diseased, the sight of some of the poor creatures is disgusting in the extreme. Moreover, owing to their wholly abnormal and often diseased condition their bite is extremely dangerous, and especially so at this season of the year. The dogs of Western breeds generally kept here by foreigners are of a very different kind; they are carefully tended, daily cleaned, and regularly fed, and are the objects of real attachment. They are made the companions of their masters, and, as in most cases these are young men who have no domestic circle here, it is not surprising that pets of more than one sort should be cherished by them. The boisterous manifestations of feline devotion which continually greet our ears even at the busiest times and places, as a broker's trap rattles past the door, or a Bank or mercantile assistant leaves his office, must be submitted to patiently, for it all comes of good feeling, although it may at times be inconvenient. It is, however, quite a different thing where a man chooses to surround himself with animals which, although tame to their own masters, are most valuable savage to all others. Absolute necessity tolerates the existence of many evils, and if no other means exist for securing the safety of person and property, the dog is a necessary evil. This can hardly, however, be said to be the case. We have wonderfully few robberies considering the facilities for thieving, and where property is misappropriated it is in most cases with the permission or connivance of the resident guardians. By the establishment of our Police we practically defer to them the duty of protection, and in the performance of it, they are authorized to enter gardens and grounds in search of those whom they may think are there concealed, or whom they may consider to be suspicious characters. It is absurd to suppose that, whereas every one who has much to do with the natives finds it to his interest to act in a conciliatory manner, the police should alone prove an exception. Our Police at this time of year especially have a very trying time of it. They are expected to run into danger whenever required, but it would be a little too much to require that they should wait to be bitten by a dog whose bite may prove fatal under the most awful circumstances, before they take measures for their safety. Were it not better that every dog in Hongkong be killed rather than one man in Her Majesty's Service die of rabies? We have reason to be well satisfied with the conduct of our police—let them be afforded a due protection.

Yours faithfully,

A CITIZEN.

ARRIVAL OF THE FRENCH MAIL.

The M. S. steamer Djemnah, Captain Rolland, with the London mails of May 19, is arrived this forenoon. We give a few later telegraphic items:

TELEGRAMS.

London, June 1.—Petra was fourth, and killed the fifth horse in the race for the Derby. Fifteen horses ran.

London, June 2.—The race for the Oaks to-day resulted in a dead heat between "Amelia" and Englebrade. Mr. Morry's Duchess obtained the second place.

His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales is confined to his room, the veins of his leg being inflamed. His Excellency Sir Salar Jung arrived in London yesterday.

The name of Mr. A. D. Colville Barclay appears as Auditor-General of Ceylon, in succession to the Hon'ble J. Douglas.

Constantinople, June 3.—Abdul Aziz has addressed a note to Murad Effendi, in which the former renounces the throne of Turkey.

June 3.—The manifesto of the new Sultan of Turkey has been issued. It reduces the civil list, and promises to relinquish the revenues derivable from Crown property, to improve the finances and encourage education, and to reorganize the State Council and Ministry of Justice. It instructs the Ministry to devise a form of Government most suitable to all the subjects of the Ottoman Empire, in order alike to secure the liberty of every one; and it hopes that the bonds of friendship now subsisting between the Empire and the Great Powers will be drawn still closer together. The manifesto finally proclaims the accession of Murad Effendi to the throne of Turkey "by the Grace of God and the will of the Nation."

London, June 3.—The Army Gazette announces that Major-General the Hon. A. E. Hurdstone, O. B., will shortly vacate his command in India, and that he will succeed to the command of the Home District.

Sir Salar Jung is still confined to his bed. He is being attended by Sir James Paget.

Simla, June 3.—The latest advices from Cashmere respecting cholera are more favourable. During the past week there have been 79 seizures and 46 deaths at Binnagur, against 217 seizures and 196 deaths in the previous week. Reports from the surrounding districts are also less serious.

No movement is reported among the Afghans at the Kohat Pass during the past week. Everything is quiet.

London, June 3.—Telegrams just received from Constantinople announce the death of Abdul Aziz, the ex-Sultan of Turkey. He committed suicide.

Simla, June 3.—Mr. Grosvenor is expected to come to Simla with his report. At present the Government know nothing of the result of his mission.

Constantinople, June 3.—Abdul Aziz committed suicide by opening the veins of his arms with a pair of scissors.

St. Petersburg, June 3.—Russia has recognized the new Sultan of Turkey.

London, June 3.—The European Press takes a sober view of the prospects of Turkey. It is stated that Serbia has recognized the new Sultan.

London, June 3.—The Times, in a telegram from Berlin, states that there are symptoms of a possible leaving of Austria, France, and Italy towards the English view of Prince Gortchakoff's Memorandum, as read at the Berlin Conference.

London, June 3.—His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, having recovered from his recent illness, has gone to Sandringham for rest.

Her Majesty has been pleased to confer a Baronetcy on Sir Richard Temple.

London, June 3.—The Russian funds are steadily falling, and a strong feeling of uneasiness prevails, owing to the movements of Serbian troops towards the frontier. Russia has strongly warned Serbia against disturbing the peace. Her Majesty's Lord of Edinburgh, has arrived at Malta.

Vienna, June 3.—The new Sultan has granted an amnesty and six weeks' armistice, in order to negotiate with the insurgents.

Aden, June 3.—The Galathea, homeward bound from Bombay, has arrived here with her cargo on fire. The Pennsula and Oriental steamer Venetia, with outward mails of the 26th ultimo, left for Bombay at 5 o'clock this evening.

Rangoon, June 3.—Messrs. Grosvenor, Baber and Davenport arrived here last evening. They landed this morning and proceeded to Government House, where they are now staying.

Rangoon, June 3.—Mr. Grosvenor was not admitted to see the King of Burmah at Mandalay. Particulars of the result of the Mission are carefully withheld here. It is understood that all the papers are sent to Simla.

Afternoon, June 3.—The plans have been altered. Mr. Grosvenor does not proceed to Simla, but the whole party leave here for China via the Straits on Saturday.

London, June 3.—Rumours of divergence of policy between Turkey and Egypt, arising from the known enmity between Murad and the Khedive, have been denied. It is announced from Berlin that the accession of the new Sultan will require a fresh agreement with the Northern Powers.

London, June 3.—The dignity of an Earl has been conferred by Her Majesty upon Lord Northbrook.

Rangoon, June 3.—Messrs. Baker and Davenport proceeded to China to-morrow via the Straits. Mr. Grosvenor will also probably proceed by the mail-steamers to Calcutta to-morrow.

Aden, June 3.—The steamer Galathea has been scuttled.

London, June 3.—Many rumours are current regarding the Eastern Question. It is even alleged that Russia is now isolated, Germany, like the other Powers, inclining towards the views of England. Nothing, however, is positively known. The situation is expected, pending the result of an exchange of views between the Great Powers on the course of events. There is rivalry between Russia, Prussia and Midhat Pasha, the latter a reformer whilst Hussein is credited with vigorous policy [of repression]. The rumours that there was to be a conference of the European Powers has been dispelled.

In the House of Commons, this evening, replying to a question of the Marquis of Hartington, Mr. Disraeli said that the Berlin Memorandum had been withdrawn. Upon certain points England agrees with the Great Powers or they with England. All the Powers have agreed to exercise no undue pressure on the new Sultan, but to allow time for his advisers to mature measures for the new policy. England had joined Austria, Russia, and France in impressing upon Serbia the importance of temperate conduct, and he hoped that the counsels thus offered would be successful. Murad had been promptly recognized by the Great Powers. Besides there was a general adhesion to the new Government by all sects, creeds and races; and the heads of the Christian communities, which would increase the influence of those who are now urging the insurgents to avail themselves of the occasion so as to insure the pacifying of the Empire.

Sierra Leone, June 10.—The first meeting of the Sierra Leone Legislative Council will be held on Thursday, the 2nd inst.

The annual Fine Arts Exhibition will be opened on the 20th September.

The French transport Mayenne arrived at Singapore from Toulon on the 13th, and left on the 19th for Saigon.

The Glenfinlas (McBain) arrived at Singapore on the 18th, and having coaled left for London the same night. The Glenfinlas (McDonald) reached Singapore on the 19th, and soon after left for London: she was the sixth steamer which had passed through Singapore to London.

H. M.'s steamer Lily, Cochrane, returned to Singapore on the 20th from her recent cruise to Sarawak and Brunei.

The French mail steamer Djemnah was detained at Singapore owing to an accident to her propeller.

H. M.'s steamer Nassau, which is to survey the Straits of Malacca, arrived in Singapore roads on the 15th inst. from the Cape of Good Hope.

That was attached to the 15th inst. from the Cape of Good Hope.

Some three or four years ago under the command of Captain Chimmo, R. N., and added most valuable services to the nautical world by her surveys of the China and Japan seas.

The Cheong Hook Kiam, arrived at Singapore from Amoy on the 19th with 525 Chinese coolies for the Straits.

The new Spanish steamer Gloria, which arrived at Singapore on 17th, seems to have made a remarkably quick passage. She left Liverpool on the 7th May and reached Singapore on the forenoon of Saturday the 17th inst.; thus making the passage from Liverpool, including stoppages at Cadiz, Barcelona, Malta, Suez and Aden, in 40 days. On the voyage to Singapore she passed the French mail steamer Djemnah and the French man-of-war Duchaffaut, both of which have arrived. She left for Manila on night of the 17th.

The Straits Times has letters from Klang to the 16th instant. All seems to be going on well; the revenue and trade are increasing; no rumours of war, and the population are coming in rapidly to settle.

a-half tons of silver were equal to one-tael of gold, while at present a tael of gold will purchase twenty taels of silver. Not being aware of the true cause of this unusual phenomenon, the natives ascribe it to the sense of insecurity which the political situation has induced, gold being in demand as more portable and more easily secured than wealth in any other form. More than ever, therefore, native Cassandras are speaking unanimously of the approaching fall of the Manchu dynasty.

The French transport Mayenne arrived at Singapore from Toulon on the 13th, and left on the 19th for Saigon.

The Glenfinlas (McBain) arrived at Singapore on the 18th, and having coaled left for London the same night. The Glenfinlas (McDonald) reached Singapore on the 19th, and soon after left for London: she was the sixth steamer which had passed through Singapore to London.

H. M.'s steamer Lily, Cochrane, returned to Singapore on the 20th from her recent cruise to Sarawak and Brunei.

The French mail steamer Djemnah was detained at Singapore owing to an accident to her propeller.

H. M.'s steamer Nassau, which is to survey the Straits of Malacca, arrived in Singapore roads on the 15th inst. from the Cape of Good Hope.

That was attached to the 15th inst. from the Cape of Good Hope.

Some three or four years ago under the command of Captain Chimmo, R. N., and added most valuable services to the nautical world by her surveys of the China and Japan seas.

The Cheong Hook Kiam, arrived at Singapore from Amoy on the 19th with 525 Chinese coolies for the Straits.

The new Spanish steamer Gloria, which arrived at Singapore on 17th, seems to have made a remarkably quick passage. She left Liverpool on the 7th May and reached Singapore on the forenoon of Saturday the 17th inst.; thus making the passage from Liverpool, including stoppages at Cadiz, Barcelona, Malta, Suez and Aden, in 40 days. On the voyage to Singapore she passed the French mail steamer Djemnah and the French man-of-war Duchaffaut, both of which have arrived. She left for Manila on night of the 17th.

The Straits Times has letters from Klang to the 16th instant. All seems to be going on well; the revenue and trade are increasing; no rumours of war, and the population are coming in rapidly to settle.

The French Municipal Council have had under consideration the terms of collection of the Wharfage Dues on their concession, certain reclamations having been made against the levy of the tax on goods in course of transhipment. The Council decide, however, that these are liable, as well as goods being landed or embarked. They undertake, however, to return to contributors pro rata any excess that may be realised beyond the £10,000 set down in the budget as the approximate product of the tax.—A tax is generally fixed at a rate likely to yield a certain sum, and if it is found to yield too much, or too little, the rate is altered. But to undertake to return a surplus is rather a novel feature of finance.

The French Council are willing to co-operate with this Municipality in cleaning out the Yang-king-pang, so soon as the hot weather has passed.—The Chinese have undertaken to issue a proclamation requiring the Chinese to respect the boundaries of the Sikaway road.

A singular robbery of $1,000 was effected on Monday afternoon. A native silk dealer and his son left a lodging house in Kiukiang road, to proceed to one of the Wharves on the French Bund, intending to take steamer to Nanking. The father rode on a barrow, on the other seat of which he placed a bundle of clothing, &c., in the centre of which were two packages of dollars, of 1,000 each, the whole being securely tied round with cord. The son walked by the side of the barrow, keeping guard. On arriving in Canton road, they stopped at a tea-shop, to transact some business with a comrade they met there, and afterwards resumed their journey to the steamer, where, on removing the bundle from the barrow, it was found that one of the packages of dollars was missing, and no trace of it has since been discovered. How it was abstracted is a mystery. The wheelbarrow coolie did not know what the bundle contained, and declared that nobody went near the barrow while he was waiting outside the tea-shop; and the son is equally sure that no one meddled with it from the time they left Kiukiang road. The coolie is in custody at the Mixed Court, and the Police are making enquiries.

Sir Thomas Wade has arrived from Peking, having rested a short time at Tientsin, where he had an interview with Li Hung-chang, which report says has not conduced to any satisfactory settlement of existing difficulties. Mr. Mayers follows the Minister shortly.

By a letter received to-day from Soochow we learn that in the Futai's yamen of that city "they have the news that Tso, the Chinese General, has committed suicide, owing to the rout of his army. All that the natives seem able to say when they hear of it is 'Ai-yai! the country is going to ruin.' The report of his death which reached us some time ago may after all be only too true; and if so, it is the severest blow to
